

Bequests: Making a Gift by Will

Making a bequest to The Land Trust for Tennessee can have a lasting impact on the beauty and character of Tennessee, protecting its rolling hills, farmland, dense forests, and historic places.

Provisions in your estate plan allow you to control the distribution of your estate and, in some cases, reduce estate taxes. We can discuss with you, in confidence, how a gift to The Land Trust for Tennessee can both achieve your philanthropic goals and make an impact for generations to come.

Bequests may be made in a variety of ways and can be given to endow your annual support for our work, to conserve your own land, and to enhance The Land Trust's ability to achieve its mission into the future.

If you wish to name The Land Trust as a beneficiary in your will, then please name us as:

The Land Trust for Tennessee, a nonprofit organization, organized and existing under the laws of the State of Tennessee, with its principal address of 4000 Franklin Pike, Nashville, TN 37204.
The Land Trust for Tennessee's tax identification number is 62-1770549.

We encourage you to schedule a meeting with your attorney to add the correct legal language to your document when updating your will and to be sure you understand all of the tax implications of your chosen method of giving.

For more information about making a bequest to The Land Trust, please contact:

Sharayah Winkler, Director of Member Relations
SWinkler@LandTrustTN.org
(615) 244-5263

Thank you so much for considering a legacy gift with The Land Trust for Tennessee.

Disclaimer: Any information provided on forms of charitable giving does not constitute legal, tax, accounting, investment or other professional advice. The Land Trust for Tennessee advises recipients to consult their professional advisors prior to acting on the information set forth herein.